PUBLIC COMMENT

Cathleen Lapchak, Laurel Gardens, addressed the Commissioners concerning the Tranguch gasoline spill, which is affecting her community. Ms. Lapchak requested the Commissioners consider another tax break for Laurel Gardens and to bring their plight to attention to state and federal representatives in an effort to buy out their properties. Ms. Lapchak cited the serious health concerns of the residents in Laurel Gardens including fourteen documented cases leukemia within their small community believed to be a direct effect of the spill. Commissioner Skrepenak offered the total support of the Commissioners citing the Declaration and promising that every effort will be made to bring Representative Eachus and Governor Rendell to the area to examine what measures can be taken to assist the residents of Laurel Gardens. Commissioners Urban and Vonderheid concurred. Commissioner Urban recommended a Resolution on Tax Abatement for Laurel Gardens be included at the next Commissioners' meeting to offer some easement to this community's plight. Pat Tomschiel, Jean Walker and Carol Kane, all residents of Laurel Gardens, presented a map detailing the statistics relating to the affected area.

Mario Fiorucci, Sugar Notch, read from a statement of which he submitted to all three Commissioners detailing his concerns on the County recycling procedures (Attached). Commissioner Urban acknowledged a previous report reference in the statement and agreed to distribute copies to Commissioners Skrepenak and Vonderheid.

Marv Lavelle readdressed the issue facing the residents of Laurel Gardens urging the Commissioners to get legislation passed to assist the residents. Mr. Lavelle expressed his gratitude to Commissioner Urban and Mayor Barletta for their continued support.

Mayor Barletta thanked the Commissioners for their efforts and looks forward to the continuing positive relationship with the County.

their efforts. Commissioner Urban commented $32 million has been approved and will be divided for various recreational projects and Hazleton will be included.

Jim Rinemiller, Director of the Hazleton Public Library, thanked the Commissioners for the County's past support recognizing the Office of Community Development for its assistance.

Commissioner Skrepenak commented the Commissioners are committed to a diverse and equal representation of all Boards and Authorities. Commissioner Urban referred to the Conservation District Board, which will be discussed later in the Agenda and the open appointments as an example.

Drew MacGill, Sugarloaf, expressed his concerns in regards to the KOZ/KOEZ designations and their relationship to land conservation. Mr. MacGill cited the Route 924 location as an example of a designation which he believes was an improper designation and recommended a forensic audit of the those locations which have been designated as well as a better method for future designations. Commissioner Vonderheid responded that all designations met the proper criteria and referred to the Luzerne/Lackawanna Open Space Masterplan as the blueprint for future reference and designations. Commissioner Skrepenak, due to time constraints, requested Mr. MacGill prepare a report to the Commissioners, outlining his concerns. Commissioner Vonderheid further added the Department of Community and Economic Development (DCED) does an annual audit of all KOZ/KOEZ sites and developments and can be viewed at their website. Commissioner Vonderheid reminded all individuals present that a certain decorum will be adhered to at all meetings and derogatory comments against past or present elected officials would not be tolerated.

The Commissioner again extended his thanks to everyone for being here, and to the cooperation of the Mayor, City Council, Rep. The Commissioner extended his appreciation to the people of Hazleton for coming out to provide information and assisting the Commissioners to make more educated decisions on what needs to be done.
